

The background of the entire image is a light blue, textured surface, possibly wood or paper, with several white cherry blossoms scattered across it. Some blossoms are in full bloom, showing five petals and yellow stamens, while others are buds or fallen petals. The blossoms are primarily located in the corners and along the edges, framing the central text box.

FOR ALWAYS BEING GREAT LEADERS AND BEING KIND AND EAGER TO

There's an old song that says:
"Let there be peace on earth and let it begin with me..."

How can peace begin with you? Is it a word? Is it an action? How can you bring peace to your group of friends or your class or your family?

Peace will always be the better choice. It may not always be the most popular choice, but showing you care more about someone else than winning an argument will always be the right choice.
