Claude Monet 75

Do you know these paintings?

Many of our children do
... and here is why.

Art Goes to School of Spring-Ford

A chapter of Art Goes to School of Delaware Valley

Art Goes to School of Delaware Valley

a non-profit volunteer organization an art appreciation program for elementary school students

Art Goes to School of Delaware Valley

has chapters in 44 school districts SE Pennsylvania and south New Jersey, has over 625 members,

reaches nearly 155,000 school children.

What we do

Expose students to fine arts from cave paintings to modern art.

What we do

Teach students how to look at and appreciate art of different types.

What we do

Help students realize that different people like different things and to respect the opinions of others.

How we do it

Using reproductions from AGTS Delaware Valley

Each year we receive a different portfolio of approximately 18 prints and one sculpture.

How we do it

We learn first.

Attend lectures and workshops

Research and Study

Share our Knowledge at meetings

Plan activities

How we do it

Then off to the museum....

How we do it

OOOPS... not THAT museum!

We take a mini-museum into every art class, once per year Grades K through 6.

How we do it

Our classroom objective:

Get students to look, listen, discuss during class room sessions that are impartial, instructive and informal.

Who we are

Moms and Grandmoms
(though men are welcome)

We are grateful for the small contributions we receive from the schools' parent associations.

Funds are used to maintain portfolios
fund learning lectures provide classroom teaching tools.

What we need

More volunteers ....

who love kids and are interested in art

No experience in art or teaching required

We learn together

So...

if you want to learn about pictures like Cuyp's
Maas at Dordrecht

Monet's
Train in the Snow

Jenkins' Phenomena Cats Paw Reach

and share that knowledge with our students in the classrooms, join AGTS.
