Spring-Ford Area High School Students Honor Those Who Impacted Their Educational Experience at the 10th Annual Senior Impact Awards Photo/Media Opportunity

ROYERSFORD, PA – Spring is typically when graduating seniors receive accolades. But in Spring-Ford Area School District, the seniors will applaud the teachers, counselors and administrators who have made an impact on their lives at the 10th Annual Senior Impact Awards, which will be held April 16 at the Spring-Ford 5-6 Grade Center.

The Senior Impact Awards ceremony honors individuals nominated by graduating seniors, who have been instrumental in making an impact on their educational experience. The event is sponsored by the Spring-Ford Educational Foundation.

Over 270 seniors submitted nominations this year, honoring 117 teachers, counselors and administrators from Spring-Ford Area School District's current and past faculty. Students can nominate any influential individual who has been part of the district at any time during their studies, including those that have gone onto other positions and retired.

On the nomination form, the students were encouraged to describe in 50 words or less what the nominee did to make a positive impact in their lives. At the awards ceremony, students who submitted nominations will also be in attendance and will sit with the adult who has been a mentor for them. This event is known to be an emotional celebration that seniors cherish as they prepare to move on to a new chapter in their lives. It is also something our honorees look forward to each year.

"This is one of my favorite nights of the year," Superintendent Dr. David Goodin said. "Our staff doesn't often receive recognition from our students in such a grand fashion. The awards reiterate that what they do is important, and that they are impacting the lives of hundreds, sometimes thousands, of young people. These awards show the recipients that they are appreciated by their students."
