

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT: Phil Ellingsworth Jr. 215-884-6499 (office) or 215-421-7536 (cell)

SPRING-FORD SEVENTH-GRADERS SELECT SCIENCE INSTRUCTOR AS “TURKIEST TEACHER” FOR THE SECOND TIME

ROYERSFORD — For the second year in a row, science teacher Ryan Rendick was named the winner of the Seventh-Grade Center’s annual Turkiest Teacher contest, which is a fundraiser for Royersford-based Project Outreach. This year’s contest raised $1,105.31 for the organization.

To participate in the Turkiest Teacher contest, students donated spare change during lunch periods held Nov. 8 through 15, placing their donation into the bucket of the teacher they most wanted to see wear the famous turkey hat for an entire day. Student government officers raised awareness for the event by making videos, posters and PowerPoint presentations to encourage donations.

At the end of the week, Rendick was selected to wear the new colorful gobbler hat, created by Family and Consumer Science teacher Cheryl Viscardi. Student government officers presented a $1,105.31 check to Project Outreach representative Meda Maron on Friday, Nov. 16. The money will be used to help families who may be in need this holiday season.

“We have been holding the Turkiest Teacher contest at the Seventh-Grade Center for more than 10 years because we are committed to helping Project Outreach and serving the community,” social studies teacher Kate Seward said.

-end-

Photo Captions:

Turkiest 1 — Spring-Ford 7th Grade Student Government officers are seen here with Meda Maron, from Project Outreach, and Turkiest Teacher Ryan Rendick.

Turkiest 2 — Seen here is Spring-Ford Seventh-Grade Center teacher Ryan Rendick, who was dubbed the Turkiest Teacher by seventh-graders.